GM FOOD

It is hard to be a farmer. Cold weather can kill your crops. Bugs can eat your crops. Weeds can hurt your crops. Your crops may need more rain than they get. Fruits and Vegetables can go bad before they are sold. Some people say farmers can fix all of this with GM food. What is GM food? All living things have DNA. DNA tells living things how to grow. These days, people can change the DNA that tells food how to grow. When people change the DNA of food, it is called GM food. Some GM food can grow in cold weather. GM food can stop bugs from eating it. GM fruits and vegetables can stay good longer. One day, GM food may be able to grow in dry land in Africa. It will feed people who do not have much food. But there is a lot we do not know about GM food. Will GM companies help poor people grow food? Or do GM companies just want to get rich? Does GM food kill bugs we need, like butterflies? Does GM food make birds sick? Does GM food make people sick? We do not know. There have not been many tests on GM food. Do you think farmers should grow GM food?

2.5- READ THE TEXT AND CHOOSE THE CORRECT ANSWER./1*5=5 POINTS/*A SLICE OF HISTORY

What do you like on your pizza? Cheese? Tomatoes? Sausage?

People may disagree on their favorite ingredients, but many people agree that pizza is a favorite food. Where and when did people start making pizza? To find out, we have to travel back in time.

Thousands of years ago, people used ancient types of wheat and other grains to make flat bread on the hot rock of their campfires. At some point in time, early cooks started putting other kinds of food on the bread – using the bread as a plate. It was the world's first pizza crust!

Over time, pizza began to look more like the food we know today. When European explorers arrived in the Americas, they saw Native American people eating tomatoes. When they brought tomatoes back to Europe, however, people there wouldn't eat them. They thought eating tomatoes could make them ill.

Slowly, however, Europeans discovered that tomatoes were delicious and safe to eat. Cooks in Naples, an Italian city, began putting tomatoes on their flat bread. The world's first true pizza shop opened in Naples in 1830. People there ate pizza for lunch and dinner. They even ate it for breakfast!

In the late 1800s, many Italians moved to the United States. They brought pizza with them. The first American pizzeria, or pizza restaurant, was Lombardi's in New York City. It opened its doors in 1905. Now pizza is one of the three most popular foods in the USA, but Americans are not the only pizza lovers.

People now eat around five billion pizzas a year, and everyone has their favorite kind. Brazilians love green peas on their pizza. Russians like fish and onions. People in India use lamb and tofu. The Japanese think seafood on pizza is good. Some pizzas truly sound strange, yet all of them share two things. Each begins with bread. And each is slice of history.

25. Who would eat tomatoes first?
 A.America B.Native Americans C.Europe D.Italians
26. Why is the history of eating tomatoes important?
 A.Tomato is famous as the first topping on pizza.

 A.Italians and Americans are the only pizza lovers.
 B.Russians like fish and onions whereas Indians use lamb and tofu.
 C.Brazilians' favourite ingredients are cheese, tomatoes and sausage.
 D.Japanese people like all types of toppings on their pizza.
28. Why is the article titled "A slice of History?"
 A.It's because every slice of pizza is delicious.
 B.The title is related to pizza varieties.
 C.It's because there are many different pizza ingredients.
 D.The article is mainly about the history of pizza.
29. Which of the following best describes the pizza?
 A.Ancient flatbreads on the hot rock of the campfires.
 B.Basic flatbreads with several toppings.
 C.Delicious flatbreads for breakfast, lunch and dinner.
