Passage 1. Read the passage and choose the correct answers. /4 x 2 = 8 points/

Air pollution can be defined as the addition of something harmful to the air at faster rate than it can be absorbed. Everyone should be concerned about air pollution. It affects us all, and as it continues to worsen, so the environmental impact increases.

One of the major causes of air pollution in cities is car use. Cars are used for even the shortest of the journeys, and all efforts by governments to encourage people to use public transport seem to be failing. Industry is another major cause of pollution in our cities. But fortunately, new industrial sites are being built away from large urban centers.

It is said that there are too many contributing factors for us to decide exactly which one is main problem, but I believe that one of the most serious problems that needs tackling is the use of the car. In some cities laws have been passed concerning car use. Athens, for example, only allows a certain number of cars into the city center each day. In my opinion, this is a good idea. With this kind of law, people have no choice and are forced to use buses and trains. This ensures governments know that public transport will be used and can therefore justify the investment and expense of ensuring the system works properly.

Another thing governments could do is to force people to have their cars checked for carbon emissions and fine people with cars that produce high level of harmful gases.

33.

. What is the passage mainly about?

A. It is about passing laws concerning car use.

B. It is about the causes that leads to air pollution.

C. It is about the cars that pollute the air.

D. It is about seeking ways to reduce air pollution.

E. It is about the effects of air pollution.

34.

- . The writer supports Athens' example that _____.
- A. gave no choice to people to use buses
 - B. allowed a good number of cars into the city center
 - C. passed a law cutting off the traffic in the country
 - D. forced people to use cars in short distances
 - E. encouraged people to use the public transport

35.

- . The pronoun "It" in bold and italics in the 2nd line refers to _____.
- A. air pollution B. everyone C. environment D. something harmful E. impact 36.

- The word "fine" in the last line is closest in meaning to _____.
